As a relatively small area tucked in North Carolina’s Sandhills region, it would be easy to assume that Pinehurst and Southern Pines don’t have much to offer in terms of shopping. Any local could tell you that this is simply not true! The shopping scene here boasts an eclectic array of locally-owned boutiques, art galleries, and specialty shops. While the best way to discover the local hotspots is by exploring the historic downtown areas of Pinehurst and Southern Pines for yourself, here are some local favorites to get you started. Happy shopping!

DuneBerry Resort Wear

A celebration of the laidback yet sophisticated resort lifestyle that many Pinehurst locals embrace, DuneBerry Resort Wear features a colorful collection of upscale generational resort apparel for the whole family. From golf shirts for men to whimsical dresses for women and a vast array of sparkly accessories, this shop has something for everyone. The owners, Ann and Jim Nash, and their staff are an absolute pleasure to interact with and are eager to help each guest find exactly what they’re looking for. This is the kind of shop that allows you to fully embrace the small-town charm that Pinehurst is known for.
